

Carolina Code Camp - Fall 2009 - Developing for Dollars

CPCC Levine Campus - Saturday, October 10, 2009

Time	Framework	Web	Mobility	XNA	SharePoint	Business	SQL	Bonus	Community	Just for Fun
Room	2304	2150	Lab	1410	Lab	2305	2306	Lab	2303	Lab
7:00 AM to 8:00 AM	Registration Coffee and doughnuts provided by Logical Advantage.								7:30 AM to 8:00 AM Introduce, Vote, & Schedule Community Track Sessions Matt Lefevre, Architect - Charlotte ALT.NET - Track Leader
8:00 AM to 8:30 AM	Welcome & Announcements Seating and stage provided by TEKsystems.
8:45 AM to 10:00 AM	Comparing Data Access Technologies Phil Meeks, Consultant	Taking Apps to the Next Level - Windows 7 Brian Hitney, Microsoft	Introduction to BlackBerry Java Development Thorben Primke - Columbia	Intro to XNA Game development Farhad Javidi-Namin, CPCC	[Lab] Dataform Web Parts with SharePoint Designer Brian Gough - Charlotte	Beyond Wages - supplement your income Joe Walling - Greenville	Automate SQL Maintenance and Backup Jeff Schroeder, SQL DBA - Charlotte	[SQL] Baked-In SQL Server Security Brian Kelley, MVP - Columbia
10:15 AM to 11:30 AM	Revisiting Refactoring Nick Harrison, Architect - Columbia	RESTful Data Chris Eargle, MVP - Columbia	[Lab] Basic Mobility in Visual Studio 2008 Bill Jones Jr., MVP - Charlotte	Making Money by Making Games in XNA Chad Carter - Triad	[Lab] SharePoint Branding 101 Susan Henry - Asheville SharePoint	Get Paid More by Proving Your .NET Quality Daniel Waldschmidt - NCover	SSIS, You , and Better ETL Rafael Salas, MVP - SQL User Group	[SQL] Execution Plan Caching and Reuse Alejandro Mesa, MVP
11:30 PM to 12:15 PM	Lunch Boxed lunches from McAlister's Deli.								Database Design, Paul Nielsen, MVP Contracting for Dollars, Phil Meeks, Consultant T-SQL Q&A / Solutions, Paul Nielsen, MVP Make your Mobile phone work for you, Lou Vega, MVP - Charleston MapKit for the iPhone, Dayton Pruet - Columbia	Coding Competition Do you have what it takes? Joins us after lunch for a fun coding competition where you implement a simple interface and then have your "bot" fight against other "bots". Each round introduces a new challenge and through clever strategies, good code, and some reverse engineering of your opponents, great riches will be yours! (OK, probably just some books.)
12:30 PM to 1:45 PM	LINQ Tools Jim Wooley, MVP	Deconstructing an ASP.NET MVC Website Mark Wilson, Consultant - Charlotte	iPhone access to Microsoft Technologies Garth Burrill, Software Engineer	Intro to XNA Game development Farhad Javidi-Namin, CPCC	Enterprise MOSS Search Overview Dan Gilroy - Project Manager	Writing Code and Making $$$ Chris Love, MVP - Fayetteville	Introduction to SQL Server Analysis Services 2008 John Welch, MVP - SQL User Group	[Web Lab] Azure, Accessing the Cloud Alberto Botero, CPCC
2:00 PM to 3:15 PM	Introduce the Parallel Ext. Library (PFx) Justin James - Columbia	Building Connected Silverlight Applications Glen Gordon, Microsoft	[BizTalk] ESB Toolkit 2.0 Jason Petrin, Software Engineer	Making Money by Making Games in XNA Chad Carter - Triad	[Lab] SharePoint Branding 101 Susan Henry - Asheville SharePoint	Profitable Software Processes Joe Walling - Greenville	Modeling Inheritance in SQL Server Paul Nielsen, MVP	[Framework] Refactoring Hands On Demo Nick Harrison, Architect - Columbia
3:15 PM to 3:30 PM	Afternoon Refreshments Provided by Logical Advantage.
3:30 PM to 4:45 PM	LINQ to SQL Tricks and Tips Jim Wooley, MVP	Bigger-Stronger-Faster: Making Quality .NET Apps Chris Love, MVP - Fayetteville	[Web Lab] Silverlight Rich Internet Apps Anita Luthra - Greensboro	[Framework] Introducing The TX Text Control Ian Blackley, German Vendor	[Lab] Dataform Web Parts with SharePoint Designer Brian Gough - Charlotte	[Web] PHP On Windows Michael Kimsal, Publisher	Designing and Optimizing Partitioned Tables Boyd Evert, IT Dir.-Charleston	[Web Lab] The MVC Training Kit Russ Jester - Greenville
5:00 PM to 5:30 PM	Closing & Giveaways
Time	Framework	Web	Mobility	XNA	SharePoint	Business	SQL	Bonus	Community	Just for Fun